WHAT MAKES MILLER'S CHICKEN BETTER?

Besides all natural feed, Miller's fresh, never frozen, chicken has never had antibiotics, growth hormones or artificial anything added to it. The Chicago Tribune described it as having "more chicken flavor" and a "sense of richness." That might be because Miller poultry is air-chilled: each bird is individually chilled for hours, then kept in temperature cooled chambers exposed to purified air, keeping the flavor intact! And you don't pay for added water! The old way of soaking chickens in cold water diluted the flavor, added expense for the customer and heightened the chance of cross contamination. Miller chicken is air-chilled all the way!
